FROM THE STEERING COMMITTEE

It must be that you are changing, and we have slipped out of touch. The past two events produced by SACWN have been very poorly attended. Only 76 people (of whom, 57 are subscribers) attended the August event, and even less, 62 women, were at the September event. Both events were budgeted anticipating twice the attendance and so, costs were not covered for either event.

Films and comedy have always been a good draw over the past three years. We were amazed that the participation was so low.

Something is very different in our lesbian nation today. Networking groups all over the country are experiencing a decrease in members and participation. Women centers and feminist bookstores are closing. It was announced at the West Coast Music and Comedy Festival, produced for the past 16 years by comedian Robin Tyler, that this year's event was the last. Robin expressed her frustration with the low attendance, less than half of the usual 2500 women, and said she was tired. She implied that she needed to "rethink" the model of the festival.

Is it time to "re-engineer" SACWN? We have evolved from an organization initially focused on "professional identities" to a social networking organization because that was what the membership said they wanted. What is it that you want now?

SACWN cannot continue to produce events that are poorly attended. More importantly, we have always taken pride is responding to your collective energy. We need to understand where your energy is today. There will be a survey in the November newsletter. Please take it seriously and respond.

It would be so sad to lose the potential of SACWN, but that will happen if we take it for granted. If you want SACWN to exist, you need to be there and participate at several levels. There is a delicate financial balance woven and maintained through dues, newsletter ads and event receipts. Each is needed to support the whole. If something is not right about SACWN, you need to let us know what that is. And if your life no longer has a place for an organization like SACWN, you need to tell us that also. SACWN is a membership organization and can only continue to exist with the full support of its members.

SACWN CALENDAR - 1995

Saturday, October 28, 1995
The Gay Nineties with Second Wind

Join us for our annual Halloween Dance at the Unitarian Universalist Society. The theme this year will be the gay nineties. Pick a century and dress as you are or would have been in 1795, 1895, 1995 or even 2095. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes of each of the four centuries! Dance to the music magic of Second Wind.

Saturday, November 18, 1995
Pot Luck By Zip Code

Ever wonder who the SACWN members are in your neighborhood? Well, here's the time to find out. We need hostesses to open their homes to other members in November for a "get to know you" pot luck. The November newsletter will list the phone number for each zip code's (or combination) location. To make this work, we will need you to volunteer. See article on page 8.

Saturday, December 9, 1995
The SACWN Snow White Champagne Ball
Lincoln Plaza, Sacramento

Watch your mailbox for your special invitation to the 19th Annual Snow White Champagne Ball, now produced by SACWN. Imagine, you in the fanciest outfit you ever dreamed of wearing to your prom. Is it a tux, with tails? Or a strapless slinky something that will make them breathless? Think of yourself as the Scarlet O'Hara type? Oh, darling!

Your pumpkin carriage takes you to the private underground parking of the Lincoln Plaza (special exceptions for the evening can be obtained for your horse/mice). As you enter, you hear the music of a harpist flowing through the branches of a two-story evergreen with snowflakes dancing in the twinkle lights, brilliant red pointsettia's everywhere. Champagne flows, delectable finger food teases your tastebuds, and you relax in the arms of SACWN. You greet friends, old and new and dance the night away to the live music of Second Wind. Join us for an evening that will live on in your memories forever.

SUCCESSFUL SACWNITE

Terri Martensen has always dreamed of being a lawyer, but her life has taken a few other turns along the way. Born in Walnut Creek, California, she was raised in towns across the country. Her dad was a consultant and the family moved a lot in her childhood years. "I don't feel as if I have a hometown. We lived in Sacramento when I was in junior high school. Dad went to work for Ronald Reagan. But that lasted just a little while and then I went to high school in Santa Cruz."

Terri became a single mother at 18 and settled in San Francisco. There she worked as a legal assistant doing pro bono work for a women's shelter. A friend introduced her to her first woman lover and they lived for a while in Illinois before returning to California.

Six years ago she took her dog to be groomed and struck up a conversation with the owner of the shop. She began working there, first as a bather, then groomer and finally manager. Less than two years ago she bought the shop. "I love working with animals. In Illinois I worked at a rehabilitation center for wildlife. So this shop was a natural for me." Terri's business is Best of Friends Pet Grooming and Supplies located on Sunrise Boulevard in Rancho Cordova.

"Owning my own business is hard work. The hours are long, and I'm only accountable to myself. There is no one to fall back on. I go to work if I'm sick or well. There's no time for vacation, because there's no one to take over for you. But being a business owner does improve your self esteem. The independence and success of making it work solely on your own skills is very validating. I'd certainly recommend to women that they should consider owning their own business. The service industry is where future jobs are. Women need to identify the high paying service jobs that will provide them with good wages and a fair return on their investment. There should be more support for woman who want to start their own businesses. We need practical information and direct help. And I think we should be willing to go the extra mile to support women business owners. Their success is ultimately our success."

Terri is single and shares her life with her dog Maui, and cats Bucky, Porche and Patches. "My pet family are all rescued animal, and no, there is not room for more!" When not at her business, she takes courses toward her bachelor's degree. Her major is political science and she still hopes to get that law degree. She loves to read but finds she only has the time for text books. "I'd like to start a woman's baseball league and would love to meet other women who are interested in baseball."

Success to Terri is being able to reach the point in life where you can enjoy your life and your own unique individualism. "I think this comes with maturity and wisdom. I feel as if I'm still reaching for success and I'm almost there."

More SACWN Says...

Several people have inquired about planning a memorial for SACWN members who have recently died. Dee and Lesha have a great idea and they invite your participation and comments.

The Sacramento Neighborhood Services will plant a tree in someone's memory. For a donation of $75, a 15 gallon, 5-7 foot tall sapling will be planted. The Service is in the preliminary stages of planning a redwood grove in Land Park. They will identify the specific tree planted in someone's name so a dedication ceremony could be planned. If you are interested in donating toward a tree for Angie Nunez or Barbara Johnson, simply make a check out to "Gifts to Share." note the name of the honoree and send it to the SACWN office. We will accumulate the checks and forward them to the Service. For more information you can contact Dee at 443-2377 or Lesha at 676-0641.

November 18 Pot Luck by Zip Code

SACWN is trying a new program in November and we need your help. We are looking for hostesses to open their homes on Saturday, November 18, for a pot luck dinner. So far we have volunteers in the following zip codes: 95603, 95658, 95818, 95833 and 95682.

Concerned about how many people will attend? It really depends on how many hostesses we get, but as an example, there are 12 of you wonderful women who live in 95608 (Carmichael), 12 in Citrus Heights (95610), 7 in Folsom (95630) and 12 in the Pocket (95831). We may include a contiguous zip code area if we haven't a hostess identified, but you can see that most zip codes areas will have 10 to 20 participants.

Here's the details:

1. The potlucks will be SACWN events, so only women over 21 may attend. (Sorry, for confidentiality reasons, no children may be present.)
2. Yes, guests are invited, as they would be to SACWN functions. However, the majority of participants should be SACWN subscribers. No newspaper advertising will be purchased. The only advertising will be in the SACWN newsletter.
3. Hostess must agree to have a first name and phone number appear in the November newsletter. Participants will call to RSVP and for the address and directions.
4. The potluck must be held on Saturday, November 18th, and may start any time after 4:00 p.m. Hostess will facilitate introductions and conversation. A sign-up sheet will be returned to SACWN so we can analyze how the idea worked.
5. Based on responses, several zip codes may be combined into one gathering. More details will follow. If you'd like to be a hostess, call Sandy at 451-8034 to volunteer. If you get the answering machine, leave your full name, phone number and zip code.
6. No money will be collected at any of the pot lucks. Participants are asked to bring their own drinks and a dish to share. Don't forget to volunteer and help the hostess(s) clean up and keep your shoes off the furniture. Now that's enough rules for any event!

Another Friend Gone.... Barbara Johnson (1931-1995)

Saturday, August 26th, Barbara Johnson was found dead in her Roseville apartment. It was known that Barbara did not wish to have a funeral. However, as word of her death traveled through the community, Janet V. offered her home in Ione as a gathering place for ten of us to come together on September 3rd to remember Barbara and talk about our individual experiences.

Barbara put herself through college and graduated from San Jose State. She spent her entire life in the field of education: becoming a high school counselor, vice-principal and principal. She always motivated her students to reach higher. In 1967 the student body of Buscher High School, Santa Clara School District, dedicated the Kodiak yearbook to Barbara in appreciation of her devotion and concern for the seniors she had counseled and assisted with college testing and job consultations.

Barbara had lived in Saratoga with her partner of 30 years, Lee, also an educator. While Barbara was working, she suffered a serious back injury. She was in constant pain for many years, even after seven back operations. She also suffered with fibrimyalgia, a painful chronic disease.

After Lee passed away from cancer, Barbara decided to move to Sacramento to live her final years "out of the closet." Many of us met Barbara for the first time at a SACWN event in 1994 when she expressed an interest in the SIG "Top Ten." Despite her painful disabilities, we all found Barbara to be a delightful and thoughtful woman.

Barbara also shared her knowledge gathered as a caregiver for her partner Lee. She was a support to SACWNite Angie Nunez and her partner Mary when Angie's cancer reoccurred. Angie especially enjoyed Barbara's chicken vegetable soup.

Janet recalls how frustrating it was to watch football on TV with Barbara. Barbara was a football addict and watched the game with the sound turned off, so she could be the quarterback.

One of the women who gathered to honor Barbara's life was fortunate to have had Barbara as her freshman counselor in high school, and she recalled how Barbara helped her to get two language courses concurrently when only one language course was the rule.

Barbara was a good friend to all the women she met during her short time in Sacramento and we will certainly miss her. May she rest in peace, free from pain at last.

EVEN MORE SACWN SAYS...
A word about confidentiality. We were reminded this month, that we haven't explained SACWN's position on confidentiality in recent newsletters.

Our members come from a wide range of positions of "being out and not being out." To respect these individual needs, the mailing list of SACWN (and from this time on, our use of the mailing list we have obtained from purchasing the rights to the Snow White Ball) is confidential. We do not mail "for" any organization nor do we give the list to any organization.

However, SACWN is an "out" organization. While we do not place ads in the straight press, we do, when asked, say that we are a lesbian networking and social organization. (Listen to the message on our answering machine. We try to insure that women who call for information know that they are requesting information from a lesbian organization.) SACWN also comes "out" to the facilities we use to protect our members from inappropriate responses from homophobic staff.
